

A message from the eDevelopment.scot programme

eBuildingstandards.scot launch: 24th August 2016

We are making changes to the way building standards applications are made from August 2016, with the launch of Scotland's eBuildingstandards.scot online applications service. This will enable the electronic submission of applications for building warrants and other related forms, such as completion certificates.

Online applications will be simple, save applicants time and money and will be delivered to us swiftly, enabling us to start considering applications sooner.

eBuilding standards.scot will be accessed through eDevelopment.scot - a new single landing page leading both to the new eBuilding Standards service and to the ePlanning service launched in January 2016. Just one registration is needed, so if you are already registered on ePlanning.scot, you will be able to use the same login details for eBuildingstandards.scot

For any questions, please contact for any questions, please contact the Building Standards Service at BS@dundeecity.gov.uk.
