

Welcome to Birkhill Cemetery

Birkhill Cemetery was designed and built in the early 1980's by Dundee City Council.

Enclosed by old drystone walls, the larger field was a tree nursery within the former Camperdown Estate. The nursery was under the charge of the Earl of Camperdown's head arborist, David Taylor, who discovered the Camperdown Elm.

The land was bought by Dundee City Council in 1946, and the field outside the current cemetery grounds had been used for agricultural until 2008.
